

CARROLL L. SCHAFBUCH

Carroll L. Schafbuch, 79 of Brooklyn, died May 15, at Brooklyn Community Estate, Brooklyn. Services were May 20, Grace United Methodist Church, Brooklyn. Burial with military honors was in Ivy Hill Cemetery, Malcom.

Carroll Lee Schafbuch was born Aug. 5, 1933 near Deep River, the son of Harlan Jacob Schafbuch and Eileen Winnifred Goodman Schafbuch. He was graduated from Victor High School in 1952 and served in the U.S. Army from 1954 - 1956, stationed in Korea. Carroll married Elaine Arlene Blaess on August 31, 1958 at the Central Christian Church, in Boone. The couple farmed in Iowa County for a time, and then purchased their first farm located west of Brooklyn in 1966. His lifelong passion was farming, but he also enjoyed dancing and having a good time with his friends. Sunday evening dances were a favorite date night for Carroll and Elaine. His legacy will live on in his children and grandchildren. Carroll was a member of the Farm Bureau, Grace United Methodist Church, and the Malcom American Legion Post 733.

Carroll is survived by his wife Elaine, his three sons, Randy Lee (Vicki) of Gilbert, Ariz, Rodney Carroll (Lori) and Ricky Allen (Daneen) all of Brooklyn; six grandchildren, Jennifer Callard (Andy) of Gilbert, Ariz., Austin Schafbuch of Tempe, Ariz, Lexi Schafbuch, Dylan Schafbuch, Alexis Lynd Schafbuch, and Logan Schafbuch all of Brooklyn, and a great-grandchild, Huxley Callard of Gilbert, Ariz. Also surviving are two brothers, Gary (Joan) and Wayne (Terrie), all of Victor, along with several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his parents and grandparents.
